14	Petitioner Ali-Mohamed Kidudu is a native and citizen of Kenya. On April 25, 2008,
15	petitioner, proceeding pro se, filed a Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus pursuant to 28 U.S.C.
16	§ 2241, challenging the lawfulness of his continued detention, and seeking an order reducing his
17	bond amount from $25,000 to $1,500. (Dkt. 8). However, the day after petitioner filed his habeas
18	petition, he was transferred from the Northwest Detention Center in Tacoma, Washington, to the 19	Mira Loma Detention Center in Lancaster, California. (Dkt. 5). On July 14, 2008, the
20	government filed a Return Memorandum and Motion to Dismiss, arguing, inter alia, that this
21	Court lacks habeas jurisdiction over petitioner's challenge to his detention because petitioner is
22	no longer within the custody or control of respondent A. Neil Clark. (Dkt. 14).

The district of confinement is the proper venue for a Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus

01 under 28 U.S.C. § 2241. See Rumsfield v. Padilla, 542 U.S. 426, 442 (2004). "Accordingly, with 02 respect to habeas petitions 'designed to relieve an individual from oppressive confinement,' the 03 traditional rule has always been that the Great Writ is 'issuable only in the district of confinement." Id. (quoting Carbo v. United States, 364 U.S. 611, 617 (1961). "The plain 05 language of the habeas statute thus confirms the general rule that for core habeas petitions 06 challenging present physical confinement, jurisdiction lies in only one district: the district of 08 confinement." Id. at 443. 09

Here, petitioner has filed a "core habeas petition challenging present physical confinement." Id. Accordingly, jurisdiction lies in only one district – the district of confinement. Because petitioner is confined in Lancaster, California, jurisdiction over the habeas petition lies only in the Central District of California. Accordingly, this case should be transferred to the United States District Court for the Central District of California.
